EXPLORE
THE ARTISTIC SOUL
OF THE
LORI REGION

Boris Diloyan, "Passion"

Welcome to the Lori region's premier center for art exhibition, public education, research and scholarship

Our rich heritage

In 1974, the Vanadzor Museum of Fine Arts was founded as a branch of the National Gallery of Armenia. In 1979, it was reorganized and received the status of an independent Museum of Fine Arts with its own collection. Since then, the Museum has become one of the most prominent cultural centers in the Lori region.

About the collections

The Museum houses more than 1,700 works of art in its permanent collection including: paintings, sculptures, drawings, prints and decorative arts by Armenian, Russian and European artists, with a special emphasis on artists of the Lori region. Visitors can admire outstanding works of art depicting different episodes of Armenian history, or delve into the deep philosophy behind various works of art. Special exhibitions are also held.

Research and education

The Museum serves as an educational resource and research environment for students and artists. Lectures and workshops explore art history and art criticism. Museum staff provide special tours and classes for students.

Preserving art for future generations

Though the Museum receives modest state support, the Museum relies on support from private individuals and foundations to grow its impact as an important destination in the Lori Region.
